In Remainder of Term Much Time Will Be Spent on Proposed Bond Issue.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.1 RALEIGH, N. C., February S.—The matter of State finances, especially provision for the State educational and charitable institutions and for erecting new State buildings or enlarging the present State-house, is looming large as the session of the Legislature speeds along toward the latter half of the constitutional limit for the term. There remain, in fact, only two days before the session will only two days before the session will have been half spent, with remarkably little general legislation to the working credit of the lawmakers. However, many of them declare that what their constituents want especially is that they exert themselves to prevent legislation, and that a "do-nothing policy" is just what their people want.

ing policy is just what their people want.

The Manning bill, carrying a bond issue of $1,500,000 for the State educational institutions and the State hospitals, will be introduced this week, and hard work is being done in paying the way for this measure to be enacted into law. With the Governor and three business men to be named by him and the presidents of the State University, the A. and M. College, and the State Normal and Industrial College as a board to apportion the bond money, the best efforts of the friends of all these interests are assured in pushing the bill through the Legislature.

Take Cardui, when your womanly organs are out of order, and when you suffer from general female misery. It will go to the seat of the trouble, and regulate the organs that are not working right.

Purely vegetable, gentle, harmless, and specifically a remedy for women, Cardui is just the medicine for you to take. Try it.

The bond issue proposed is for $1,500,000 for the permanent improvement and equipment of the educational and charitable institutions of the State. The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Koonce defines the trusts and unlawful combinations and prohibits their baleful activities almost exactly as does the famous Texas antitrust act.
